Poll question 1

How prepared is your organization for relevant third-party and supply-chain due-diligence requirements?

Evolving Regulations & Expectations

- Global due-diligence laws are reshaping risk management
- Accountability now extends across supply tiers

Building Stronger Third-party Due Diligence

Effective due diligence transforms oversight into collaboration.

- Ethics, sustainability, and compliance must be embedded at every stage of supplier management.
- Continuous engagement helps identify risks early and strengthen relationships.
- High-performing organizations view suppliers as partners in integrity, not just vendors.

Poll question 2

Which best describes your company's current approach to third-party
due-diligence?

Ethics, Culture & Technology

Continuous data monitoring provides visibility into emerging risks.

Cross-functional collaboration ensures accountability from top to bottom.

Ethical leadership bridges the gap between compliance and performance.

Technology amplifies awareness, but culture turns awareness into action.

Poll question 3

What's your organization's next big priority in supply-chain risk management?
